Mrs. Bailey has about recovered from her recent serious illness. Dr. Boring was her physician and Miss Entenza trained nurse.

Mrs. J. P. Entenza is here for a few days from Jacksonville to pack her household goods and have them shipped to that city, where Mr. Entenza has moved his cigar factory.

Rev. D. L. Branning was sixty-seven years old on the 29th ult., and he and Mrs. Budington-Branning, two years younger, were married forty-six years on the 15th inst. They have had eleven children and eleven marriages of their children. His mother had eleven children and her mother thirteen, making thirty-five for the three mothers. Rev. Branning has given over forty years' service free of charge to the church as a local preacher. Now, after a long, industrious life, he is laid on the shelf as it were, in ill health, and the old song is apropos: "Lay down the shovel and the hoe, Hang up the fiddle and the bow," etc.

J. L. Strickland is having the Reed house taken down by Contractor Stokes in view of using the material to build one or more cottages in that section of town, where he owns vacant lots.

Ten prominent citizens, accompanied by Commissioner Dampier, went out to prospect for a straightening of the public road to Santa Fe river, the county line. It being impracticable to construct a bridge on the present road, a new site was chosen, and the co-operation of Bradford county is expected to build a new steel bridge. This would put Waldo on the automobile route.

Mrs. Redd and S. L. Kramer have consummated a trade of places and they have moved into their new possessions. Mr. Kramer paid considerable difference.

A merchant corrects a statement made in a former note by saying he has recently been selling kerosene at 15 cents per gallon.

Christopher Neal went south to Okahumpka to be under a specialist for consumption, and is confined to the bed. Miss Nora Geiger, who is also affected, is still having fever.

Mrs. D. Hicks and Miss Daisy Hicks have gone to Jacksonville for a few days.

Mrs. J. R. Wilkerson has gone to Alachua as a representative of the Woman's Home Mission Society.

In Honor of Miss Price.

Miss Edelweiss Price of Micanopy, who has been visiting Miss Alma Fennell for the past two weeks, returned to her home yesterday, to the regret of her many friends.

While here Miss Price had several entertainments given in her honor. Special mention is that given by Miss Fennell to the Kappa Alpha Fraternity of Florida and their friends. The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and red roses, the latter being the flower of the fraternity.

In one room was an "observation table," Miss Pearl Colson being the winner of a lovely U. of F. banner, the prize given for remembering the most articles on the table, Miss Vidal and Mr. William Shands receiving the booby.

Another amusement consisted of a hunt for the North Pole, in which the young men had a regular Cook and Peary scramble. Mr. Younglove was rewarded with a "Cook" for being the finder.

Some beautiful selections of music were rendered and during the evening delicious refreshments were served in courses.

When the time came for parting everyone thanked the charming hostess and her lovely guest of honor for a most delightful evening.

There now appears to be more corn in Gadsden county than in three years, and if nothing prevents the present hog crop will be large, and more pork saved than for several years past.

MAN OF MILLIONS COMES TO TOWN

PRESIDENT OF ELGIN WATCH CO. PAYS GAINESVILLE A VISIT.

Has Long Had Faith in Florida, Which Has Never Been Shaken, and Owns Property in State.

Among the most prominent visitors of the year to Gainesville is Chas. H. Hulburd of Chicago, president of the Elgin National Watch Company, one of the wealthiest concerns of its kind in the world, who spent Thursday here as a guest of Hon. Henry S. Chubb, his former friend.

Mr. Hulburd resembles more a business man of the ordinary time than the thrice millionaire that he is. He dresses in plain clothes, has the air of a good, clever, fellow—and carries it out—and one would think without knowing that he was just 'an ordinary fellow." His manner is plain, his disposition frank and domestic, and his general appearance would not indicate that he was any more than an ordinary business man, struggling for the existence of a living.

But Mr. Hulburd is greater, because he is at the head of one of the leading watch manufactories of the world.

Mr. Hulburd has always been interested in Florida, and is a friend of the State and its people. He owns Heather Island, a tract embracing 4,000 acres in Marion county, where a large and handsome orange grove existed before the fatal freeze of 1894-5. He is still cultivating the property, however, and was en route to Heather Island, where he will spend the winter.

HIGH SPRINGS NEWS.

Children's Mission Band Render a Most Interesting Program.

HIGH SPRINGS, Nov. 20.—On last Sunday evening, at the Methodist church, a most interesting program was rendered by the Children's Mission Band, also a very interesting sermon on "Missions" by the presiding elder. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and cut flowers.

Mrs. J. W. Grimes of Jacksonville is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. B. Rives, for a few days.

Mrs. M. C. Cato has been indisposed for the past week.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting on Monday afternoon, at which time delegates were elected to attend the State convention.

Mrs. H. McL. Grady and Mrs. Jas. Paul attended the annual Federation of Woman's Clubs at Palatka this week.

Mrs. Cora Brantley and daughter of Tennessee are visiting Mrs. J. D. Neal.

Mrs. L. C. Gracy of Gainesville visited relatives in town this week.

J. A. Stephens, the popular druggist, went away the other day and when he returned to the surprise of his many friends he did not return alone, having been quietly married to Miss Zola Simmons of Monticello. Miss Simmons is no stranger in our midst, having at one time spent several months here, where she made a host of friends who wish them a long and happy life.

We are sorry to report sickness in the family of Mr. J. D. Neal. Both his mother and little son have been quite sick.

On next Wednesday evening, November 24th, there will be a silver medal contest at the school auditorium. Everybody invited.

There was a delightful party tendered the young folks at Mrs. J. B. Lyons' last evening, which was enjoyed by a large number.

Rev. J. C. Rogers preached for the Alachua saints on last Sunday.

THAD MAKES A KICK.

Raises Objection to Cutting Down Government Landmark.

BELL, Fla., Nov. 20.—Editor Sun: I would like to ask through the columns of your valuable paper what right has a road overseer to cut down and destroy the old landmark trees on the public roads of this county, such as are known as fore and aft trees? We have had a road out here by my place for about 11 years, practically as straight as the one they cut by the side of it, and the real estate owners who lived on each side of it were satisfied with the road, but to keep the road man in a job, I am told, our commissioner gave the road man orders to cut it on the section line, irrespective of whose property it injured, and to move all trees and stumps for a width of 16 feet, after the road hands had, inside of at least fifteen or eighteen months, been over that road four or five times taking up all the stumps in the roadbed. So to keep the wheel going our commissioner decides to virtually cut a new road. If there was some chance for us to get some hard surface on that road, well and good, but there is not. As to the moving of any of the old Government landmarks, I say it is high time our United States officials were looking after that matter. The United States land laws forbid it, and so does our State law. I say if our county commissioners are responsible for the fore and aft trees on the public roads being cut, they should be prosecuted. When I was county commissioner I forbid my road man to cut any fore and aft trees, for if all of the United States landmarks are removed, how would a surveyor locate my land, or anyone else's?

S. R. Jenkins and family have removed to Lakeland.

Mrs. E. L. Whitney, Miss Marion Whitney and Earnest Whitney have returned after a year's absence in Connecticut.

Simon Coward has sold part of the lot adjoining his store to G. Nobles, who will build an up-to-date butchershop shortly, the lumber having already been ordered.

Dr. Frank McRae drove to Gainesville recently in his Brush car, taking about two hours to make the 20-mile trip via Orange Heights on the county road. By covering one or two miles here and there with pine straw the trip could be made in much less time.

C. P. Huffman has returned from his visit to Live Oak much benefited in health.

An Approaching Marriage.

The young lady who is soon to become Mrs. Clarke is one of Cordele's social favorites, coming from one of the finest families of old Georgia.

Dr. Devere B. Morris of this city will act as attendant to the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will leave for Gainesville, and are expected to reach here on the evening of Thursday, the 25th inst. They will make their future home in Cordele, only coming here for a visit to the groom's relatives.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR FLORIDA TEAM

UNIVERSITY'S HUSKY LADS DEFEATED OLYMPICS WITH EASE.

Many Brilliant Plays Were Made, Which Demonstrated That Florida Outclassed Their Rivals.

Again the Florida University football team met and conquered, having won over the strong Olympics of Jacksonville on the local gridiron Saturday afternoon in one of the most spectacular and scientific games ever witnessed here. The score was 11 to 0 in favor of Florida.

And when it is said that Florida defeated the Olympics it is saying a great deal, for the visitors are well-up on the game, as was demonstrated by heir brilliant playing at various stages of the game.

The weather conditions were most favorable, with the result that quite a number of enthusiasts and admirers of Florida's team were there to encourage the boys and lend their husky cheers in pushing them on to victory.

While it is true that the Olympics are well-up in the game, it is conceded that Florida has the better team, as in several instances the superiority of the college team was demonstrated.

There were a number of well-planned and brilliantly executed plays on the part of Florida, but the stars of of the game were Earl Taylor and Moody.

Those forming the University line-up in this game were as follows: Storter, center; Cox, rg.; Rader, rt.; McCormick, re.; McMillan, lg.; Waggner, lt.; Moody, Johnston, le.; Adgerton, qb.; Shands, lh.; E. Taylor, rh; Vidal, fb.

Summary—Touch-downs, Moody 1, Taylor 1; goals from touch-down, Taylor 1.

Referee—Mr. Shands; umpire, Evans; time keeper, Carter.

Halves, 25 and 25.

The Sun is indepted to J. E. Jacobson, of the University, for an excellent detailed account of the game, but regrets that owing to lack of time and space, we were unable to use the same.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNS.

Electra Peeples Plead Guilty to Aggravated Assault and Sentenced.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

After a session lasting two weeks, the fall term of the Circuit Court adjourned Saturday morning.

There was only one case remaining on the criminal docket to be disposed of Friday night, being the case of the State vs. Electra Peeples, a negro woman of Wilcox, charged with assault with intent to murder. The case was called immediately upon the convening of the court Saturday morning, the defendant being arraigned and pleading guilty of aggravated assault, which plea the court accepted, and the woman was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs, in default of which she must spend three months in the county jail.

Judge Wills and other court officials are to be congratulated upon finishing the work in so short a time, as there was a heavy docket, and the majority of cases were disposed of by process of arraignment and trial.

Among the criminal cases disposed of were three murders, all the defendants being negroes. Two of the prisoners plead guilty to murder in the second degree, and each was sentenced to life imprisonment. The third defendant, Jim Landy, went to trial, and the verdict of the jury was murder in the third degree, when Landy was sentenced to two years in State prison at hard labor.

A millionaire of Bordentown, N. J., anxious to get to his winter home in Sarasota, chartered a train from Tampa to take him there. The price paid for the ticket was $120.

HOW THE SOLDIER ENJOYS LIFE IN THE PHILIPPINES

Gainesville Boy Serving on Constabulary Writes Interestingly of Conditions and Customs There.

Mrs. H. A. Fisher has received a letter from her son, Chas. M. Fisher, who received appointment to serve on the Philippine Constabulary, Philippine Islands, and who has been there for nearly a year, which contains a graphic description of life in that country. In the course of his letter, which is dated Camp Larena Iloilo, P. I., Sept. 11th, Mr. Fisher says:

"* * * There is hardly any Sunday on these islands. There hasn't been any for me since I came to this Island Panay. As I perhaps wrote you in my last letter (Aug. 31), my boss here never stopped for Sunday. But now that I am out here in the mountains, away off from everybody and everything, every day is Sunday to me. You see I am 'catching up.'

"Since you and Eva have been corresponding and exchanging my letters I don't know how to write to keep you from reading the same things twice, but I want to tell you about my trip from Jaro up here to this place, 'Camp Larena,' they call it.

"Last Wednesday a week ago, Sept. 1st, your birthday, Capt. Hemmett decided to send me up here to command the mountain post. It is a new one they are building very far up in the mountains to keep the wild people quiet. Before there have been bands of robbers in these mountains and the Constabulary couldn't get them, but now with a post right up here among the very heart of the mountains we can keep them quiet at least. This camp was begun last February and it will be two or three months yet before we can call it finished. At present the officer's quarters, a house built of poles, frame, sided with bark from hard-wood trees and covered with grass, is occupied by the soldiers, while the officer (myself), lives in the kitchen, a little shack built of tne same material, only it has for a floor poles laid close together and this same bark laid over them instead of boards. There is only one room and that is about as large as the kitchen part of our house at home, and in here I have a cot in one corner, a table with a little box on ff a desk in another corner, and a large box filled with clay for a place to build fires to cook on in another corner; a little rickety table to set out in the center to eat on and the provisions, such as we have up here, we set on the floor. There is one door so low I have to stoop to pass in and out, at the same time step up over the door sill about a foot high. The other building is not floored yet, nor weatherboarded, but it will be the same as the officer's quarters when completed, only much larger. Both buildings look more like make-shift barns than houses, and this little kitchen is not good enough for a wood shed. The wind blows hard up here all the time, and in puffs and gusts, and it rains half the time, and both wind and rain come right through this little 'office' of mine like you can imagine it would. But that is only the dark side of it. It was worse than this when they first began to work here, for then there wasn't a thing up here but rocks and woods and grass. They did have fair weather, though, in the early part of the year.

"Now, little as you think, I like it up here. It is cool all the time, even cold, cold like it was at Baguio, exactly, and about as high above sea-level, 5,000 feet. There is no danger of bad water or cholera or yellow fever or anything like that up here. One doesn't have to be everlastingly changing sweaty clothes or starching and ironing. There is no wood bill to pay, no laundry to pay, no social features to attend, no political factions to worry about and no thieves to be running after and no work of any kind, in fact, except keep my men drilled and clothed and fed and improve the camp by doing some additional building, and keep two or three books written up.

"Then the scenery here is very beautiful—much more even than at Baguio. Our camp is built right up on the top of a small but very high and steep hill, right in the inclosure of a horseshoe mountain range, and down at the foot of the hill, on the south side, is a small mountain lake about as large as our lot and Sim's and Bennett's all three together. The mountain is highest on the west and open on the east. We can see the sun rise through this gap, but it goes behind the mountain back of the camp on the west about three or four o'clock. This valley and mountain around the camp are covered with a thick forest of all kinds of hardwoods, vines and undergrowth found in the Philippines. There are no pines here like at Baguio, but there are a few small fiir trees, which resemble the pine.

"After another month or two the rain will stop and wind, too, and then it will be fine up here. They never let a company of soldiers stay here over two months because it is rather lonesome for them and then they want to let all of the companies have a turn at it. They have changed officers, too, with the companies, but Capt. Hemmett told me if I did to suit him and higher authorities didn't object he might let me stay here several months and just change the men every two months. I want to stay here, for I can live very cheap here, but down where I've been it seems like so much is required and they expect a fellow to spend every cent of his salary. * * * There was this and that and the other we just were required to get, and now I can't use them. I fear I'm not going to save as much as I had hoped to when I came over, but as I said, if they will keep me out here or some of the out-of-the-way places, which I think now is very likely, I will be more independent and able to save quite the largest half of my salary.

"The way up here, Mama, is a sight. There is no road—no more than a dim trail, and that only part of the way. There are good roads down in the low lands, of course, very good roads, but from the last station in the edge of the hills all the way up here we had to climb up very steep mountains and then down, and up and down, then wade rivers endways up and sometimes down over rocks and the water all the way from shoe-top to over waist-deep and running very swift. Some places we passed upstream where the banks were solid rock at least two hundred feet high and straight up—regular canons worn out through the mountains. We were from Saturday morning about 9 o'clock till Monday morning about 9 or 10 o'clock coming over about 15 or 20 miles, the distance from here back to the last station, and most of those two days were spent in wading up the river. Both nights we camped out in little shacks which we found up in the mountain. I would take off wet clothes and put on dry ones, roll up in a big blanket and sleep sound as a log on the bamboo floor, while the natives I had with me, eight in all, sat around a little fire built on the clay hearth in the same room. Of these eight natives four of them were soldiers, three were cargadores, that is, men who carry loads on their backs or heads, and one boy, my muchacho, that is, a personal servant. I had not hired a muchacho yet, though all the officers have them, but low after leaving places where there were servants I just had to get one. I was lucky, too, for this is a good little fellow about 14 years old, can speak very good English, can cook and wash clothes, shine shoes, and keep house real well. He knows some Spanish and speaks naturally the native dialect, Visayan. So he does my interpreting besides all my work about the house. He has been two years to English school in Iloilo and can sing several American songs. He is quick as a cat and right good looking. He was on his way back to school when I saw him on the road and he wanted to come with us, so after telling him he had better go on to school and discouraging him as much as possible from coming, I decided if he was so [illegible] I'd take him. I don't know generally pay the muchachos about ten pesos ($5) a month, but that is when they have their washing done at a laundry and have a cook besides. If I were in town where it was very warm and social life to keep up I would have to have my clothes done up properly, but up here I only wear a flannel shirt and trousers, shoes which I don't care if they are muddy, and a hat. All my good clothes are in my trunk down in Jaro and will stay there till I leave this camp.

"I am studying Visayan now and my boy is my teacher. He knows all about grammar, too, so it is a pleasure to talk to him. He can understand me. I'm going to keep him if I have to pay him 20 pesos a month, that is, if he behaves well and does my work properly and don't get lazy. His home is a little country village and the other officers who know his mother and sisters and brothers say they are real nice people for Filipinos. As soon as I can learn Visaya well enough to pass the examination I will get 100 pesos a year extra pay, but it is very hard to learn and most officers do not learn it in three or four years. If I can keep studying it (and up here I have plenty of time and nobody but Visayan people to talk to) I believe I can learn it enough to pass examination in a year or little more. I have a book of it now and during the past week have learned several words. We boys don't get extra pay for learning Spanish, but we have to study it, too, so as to be able to talk to the educated Filipinos and Spanish element, for these form the social class and generally the officeholders in the local government. I and my boy are the only two who speak English up here. All my soldiers are Visayan and some of them know some Spanish. But we get along real well. I'm not in the least afraid—no more than if I were in the woods in Florida. In fact, there are not as many murders or crimes of any kind committed over here, except caraboo stealing, as there is right in the United States. There is never any trouble now to amount to anything. The Constabulary has worked up a good name for itself in the past two or three years—much better than it had formerly—and the people everywhere respect it very much. The trouble in Davao Mindanao in July was only local and I don't fear any more like it, for a good example was made of them.

"Well this is Sunday morning. Last night the wind did not blow so bad and this morning is a nice day. I have just come back from the lake, where I had a bath. I wish I could go to church this morning, but there is none near here. O, yes, while I was on my way from Jaro I saw in the [illegible] gable facing the road was this: tist Church, God Is Love,' in la ters. Then right across the and around the next corner very large stone church with round dome on the tower surm by a cross. Since the Filipin to do everything for show I how many leave the big church tend the little one. There a families of Baptist missionar Jaro and they come all up the country to these little to do not know how strong the established churches are. I am to go sometime when I chance. * * *"

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Gainesville Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Gainesville people endorse this claim:

Mrs. Eliz. Ratherree, 201 W. McCormick street, Gainesville, Fla., says: "For years I suffered from dragging pains in my back, often so severely that I could not move. The secretions from my kidneys were also irregular in passage and caused me further annoyance. Any cold I contracted aggravated my trouble and at such times I was in misery. A friend finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. The first few doses gave me relief and when I had taken the contents of one box, the pains disappeared and my kidneys became normal. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am glad to give them the credit."

"NOT GUILTY" IS VERDICT OF JURY

MARTIN BOYS AND POWERS RELEASED LATE THURSDAY.

Were Arraigned and Tried for Rape, and Trial Lasted Nearly Two Days—Boys Congratulated.

After being out only a few moments, the jury in the case of the State vs. Lewis Martin, Cronin Martin and George Powers, three young men charged with rape, the jury in the case about 7 o'clock Thursday night brought in a verdict of not guilty, and the young men were given their libeity, when they were congratulated by friends.

The case has occupied the greater part of two days, with the above result. Many witnesses were examined, and the case was submitted without argument.

The jury in the case were: H. C. Parrish, S. S. Polk, M. H. Slaughter, E. H. Waters, T. P. Boulware, J. E. Hays, B. F. Kite, J. R. Zetrouer, Jr., T. B. Means, M. N. Sanchez, C. S. Bennett, W. G. English.

Attorneys Syd L. Carter and Evans Haile represented the defendants, while State Attorney Rivers appeared for the State.

WILL GO ON HUNT.

Rev. W. J. Carpenter and Party of Friends Will Try Luck in Woods.

Notwithstanding that Rev. W. J. Carpenter, for four years the beloved pastor of the First Methodist church in this city, has been away for several years, Dr. Carpenter still remembers the hospitality extended by the people of this city and county, and cherishes this remembrance with a great deal of gratitude.

A day or two ago Captain J. Maxey Dell, who is recognized as one of the most enthusiastic sportsmen of this section, received a letter from Dr. Carpenter, in which he says in substance that he and a party of friends from Tampa are going on a big hunt as guests of Thomas Chaires at Old Town, and expressed a desire that Captain Dell be with them, explaining, of course, that he "had authority for the invitation."

Captain Dell appreciates very much this invitation, but regrets that business engagements will prevent him from going at this time. He feels sure that the hospitality of the Chaires home will make all who go on that hunt have a good time.

What Would You Do?

In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without a scar. For sale by all druggists.

BIG MORTGAGES ARE NOW BEING RECORDED

INSTRUMENTS INVOLVING $150,000,000 FOR SEABOARD.

Mortgages Intended to Pay Off Indebtedness and Make Proposed Extensions of Line.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

Two of the largest mortgages ever recorded in the records of Alachua county are now being filed in the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court S. H. Wienges.

These mortgages are from the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company to the New York Trust Company and Mortimer N. Buckner, $125,000,000, and the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company to the Fidelity Trust Company of Baltimore and Lear Black, $25,000,000, making an aggregate of one hundred and fifty million dollars.

The first mortgage, which is a refund instrument calling for $125,000,000, is 141 pages of printed copy, each page equaling a page of typewriter, while the second instrument, an adjustment mortgage, contains 121 pages of the same class matter.

These mortgages, a copy of which it is required must be filed in every county which the branches effected penetrate, must be recorded one hundred times, which involves a great deal of work upon the part of the various county officials.

Miss Estelle Beal, the efficient typewriter in the office of Clerk Wienges, has been working faithfully upon this work for several days, and she is naturally weary. While she likes to see the office prosper, nevertheless she declares that she is glad such documents do not come in every day.

The amounts realized from these mortgages are intended to go for the purpose of paying certain indebtedness, improving roadway, and making extensions in various sections.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

Captain LeBarron Returns.

Conductor F. R. LeBarron of the Atlantic Coast Line is again on his regular run between Jacksonville and St. Petersburg, and his numerous friends, which includes the entire traveling public who have occasion to come this way, are glad to welcome him back on the "old job."

She has been improving in her new home, which will be gratifying to Captain LeBarron's numerous friends along the route.

Dispatches are to the effect that cotton mills at Huntsville, Ala., which have curtailed production for several months, are resuming at full time.

A Mississippi woman has been sentenced to seven years in the State penitentiary for the theft of five eggs and a half pound of butter. At present prices this constitutes an act of grand larceny.

If a large part of the charges made by newspapers in connection with the sugar frauds is true, it becomes evident that Mr. Roosevelt could have had some excellent gunning for big game without leaving these shores.

An instrument, by the use of which four messages can be sent simultaneously over a single cable, has been invented and patented by Stephen D. Field, a nephew of Cyrus W. Field, who laid the first Atlantic cable. The device is now being used on the cable between Key West and Havana, and is said to work very successfully.

By the will of the late Mrs. H. B. Plant the family of W. B. Wrenn will receive sums aggregating $55,000. Mr. Wrenn was for many years manager of Mr. Plant's railroad interests prior to the change in the system, and this recognition of his services to her husband is a beautiful testimonial of Mrs. Plant's goodness of heart. Mr. Wrenn died comparatively a poor man.

There is nothing the matter with this beautiful weather, except that it is dusty, and so much additional vegetable and mineral dust is bad for the throats of city dwellers. Breathe through your nose; that's what it was put on your face for. It is so arranged that it filters dust out of the air and prevents it getting to the delicate interior membranes. It is a good scheme to douche the nose occasionally with some antiseptic astringent, as a solution of glycothymoline or listerine. Clean and strengthen the throat membranes by gargling the same solutoin. Keep your mouth shut, except when talking or eating or drinking—and do not be intemperate in any of these necessary exercises.

Very recently a wealthy man died in New York and bequeathed $25,000,000 to numerous religious and benevolent causes. That amount, stupendous as it was, was not the whole of his benefactions, for throughout his life he gave large sums for similar purposes. A few weeks before another wealthy man died, also in New York, and left a fortune of over $20,000,000, but he left not one cent for philanthropy. What a difference between the two men. One recognized his obligations to the world and the value of religion and benevolence in the formation of character and the uplifting of humanity. The other man seemed to have no such consciousness, and therefore built up his mighty fortune for himself and family alone. The two facts in all their details convey their own lesson.

THEY DO NOT HELP.

We still stick to the assertion that the Jacksonville saloon men do not help the "wets" in the local option elections in other counties of the State. On the contrary they sometimes lend a hand to the "drys." This is but natural, as it is not reasonable to suppose that they will help competitors to get into the field. The large brewers and distillers no doubt contribute liberally to the "wet" cause everywhere, and as they all have agencies in Jacksonville the impression goes forth that it is the saloon men contributing the wherewith. —Perry Herald.

The Sun is of the same opinion as The Herald. It is to the interest of those engaged in the "jug trade" in Jacksonville to keep the smaller counties in close proximity to that city dry, and they at least keep "hands off" in the local option contests. As The Herald says, the large brewers and distillers no doubt lend financial aid to the "wets" in the effort to return to the license system in some of the counties, but it is contrary to human nature for the "jug houses" to lend aid in such contests.

In the effort to establish State-wide prohibition next year a different phase of the question will be presented, however, and the prohibitionists may as well prepare for the combined opposition of the liquor interests.

Colonial Holidays

THE open fireplace, the crackling logs, the roasting chestnuts, the jingle of sleighbells, the snow-mantled guests!

The festive board—the spotless linen—the quaint, old china, the family silver brought from its hiding place! The pride in that silver!

And now—your family silver? Is it the "Colonial" made in the historic old town of Newburyport, Massachusetts? If so, you have equal pride in yours.

This splendid pattern in Sterling Silver reflects all the courtly grace and dignity with which your great-great-grandsire led the cotillion or dispensed the hospitalities of the feast.

Are you prepared for your Holiday carving? We propose a bird set in the "Colonial" for your own use, or as an acceptable gift. Made in a complete table service.

The Doctor's First Question

"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do as he says. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

ITS BEST YEAR.

The rapid progress of the University in all of its activities during the present session is gratifying to the friends of the institution throughout the State. There are now enrolled in all departments, 163 young men, as against 87 at this time last year. Almost every county in the State is represented. This is the largest enrollment in the entire history of the institution. During the first year of the University, while at Lake City, there were enrolled 136 students in all departments. At this time the University had two grades lower than the present sub-freshman class of the University. Besides this, it had a Normal Department and a Department of Pharmacy. It must also be remembered that this enrollment followed the abolishment of all of the State Institutions in 1905. In 1906 the total enrollment was 102. In 1907-8 the total enrollment was 103. In 1908-9 the registration was also 103.

Not counting the Law Department there are now enrolled more students in the University than were ever matriculated in the institution.

The spirit of the student body is excellent, as is also the conduct of the men. The faculty is greatly encouraged by the fine spirit of the student body and the application and industry that are manifested by the students in every department of the University. Indications point to an extremely satisfactory year in all respects and a continued increase in attendance and greater prosperity in the University in the year to come.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Governor Albert W. Gilchrist has issued the following proclamation:

"State of Florida, Executive Chamber.

"A most beautiful custom has become established, that at least one day in the year be set aside to be devoted to rendering thanks to the Giver of all good gifts and graces for his manifold blessings to the people of our State and our nation.

"We should all be thankful for the incomparable privileges of living in such an enlightened age of this beautiful world, and for the especial privilege of living in such a nation and in such a State.

"Therefore, in accordance with the honored custom and in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, I hereby designate Thursday, November 25, 1909, as a Day of Thanksgiving, and recommend its appropriate observance as such.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great Seal of the State to be affixed at Tallahassee, the Capital, this 17th day of November, A. D. 1909.

"ALBERT W. GILCHRIST,
"Governor of Florida.

"By the Governor, Attest: H. CLAY CRAWFORD, Secretary of State."

With 15-cent short staple cotton and long staple at double that price why do not our South Carolina farmers take into consideration the planting of this money-making crop? The farmers of the State above us are getting rich on cotton and in upper Florida the growers of Sea Island cotton are looking as "sassy" as orange growers. This section of the State at one time was very successful in growing the fleecy crop and at present prices there would be a mint of money in it for those who plant next year.—Orange County Citizen. Yes, at present prices. But the prices mentioned by The Citizen are due, mainly, to the combined effects of discouragement over the lower prices of recent years leading many planters to restrict their acreage and of the bad weather which ruined so much of the cotton in the fields. Next year may see a "bumper" crop and the planters may not find it easy to hold cotton for better prices which the manufacturers will refuse to give in the face of a big "visible supply."—Times-Union Short Talks.

Judge L. J. Reeves of Pensacola, candidate for United States Senator, was in Gainesville during the past week, and the editor regrets his absence from home when the distinguished gentleman called at The Sun office. He is making a preliminary tour of the State in the interest of his candidacy, renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones, and understand that he is well satisfied with the "lay of the land" so far. Judge Reeves is an able campaigner and the other candidates will find him a foe worthy of their steel before the close of the first primary.

A long-drawn-out fall, under favorable weather conditions, has revived predictions of a mild winter. Sometimes the earth will for a long while retain some warmth from Halley's comet which is headed this way. If the prevailing warmth may be attributed to such a cause one wonders, however, there is not danger of some of us getting a little too warm.

As we usually begin to remind you about this date: Do your Christmas shopping early and avoid the rush. For, although this is another summer day, we predict with confidence that Christmas is a-coming.

TERM OF COURT A RECORD BREAKER

COURT OFFICIALS GOT DOWN TO BUSINESS IN SHORT ORDER.

Large Docket Disposed Of, But Term Will Be Week Shorter Than Any Previous Session.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

With one more case to try on the criminal docket, the fall term of the Circuit Court, in and for the Eighth Judicial Circuit, Alachua county, which will have been in session two weeks, will go down as one of the shortest regular terms on record in Alachua county, and to this fact the thanks of the people of the county are due His Honor Judge J. T. Wills, State Attorney J. M. Rivers, Sheriff Ramsey, Clerk Wienges and all other court officials, as well as the members of the bar in general, all of whom worked with the greatest harmony in the transaction of all business coming before the court.

As a rule, not less than three weeks have been required to finish the business of a term, but in the majority of instances from four to five weeks are required. But the court is now down to a system admirable, and in future, if this system is maintained, the record of long and tedious terms will be a thing of the past.

Notwithstanding that there was the usual heavy docket, everything went so smoothly that the cases were disposed of with commendable promptness, thus saving several hundred dollars' expense to the tax-payers of the county, and the patience of a number of jurors and witnesses who were called away from their homes.

There is only one more case to come to trial on the criminal docket, that of the State vs. Electra Peeples, charged with assault with intent to murder.

The court was called to order at 9 o'clock Friday morning and the following business was disposed of:

State vs. Wallace Felder, larceny of a horse. Tried by jury, J. M. Love, foreman, and after hearing evidence and argument in the case a verdict of guilty as charged was returned, and Felder was sentenced to three years in State prison.

Sentences were imposed upon convicted prisoners as follows:

Jim Johnson and James Hunt, tying mule on railroad track, five years each in State prison.

Jim Lundy, murder in third degree, two years in State prison.

Alberta McQueen, who plead guilty to manslaughter, three years in State prison.

Jim Mulberry, selling liquor, $50 and costs or four months in county prison.

Will Mitchell, grand larceny, one year in State prison.

Rosa Ravinell, grand larceny, plead guilty to petit larceny, $5 and costs or thirty days in county jail.

The court adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning, when the business of the term will be concluded.

A Broken Back.

That pain in your back caused by lumbago, stiff muscles or a strain, is an easy thing to get rid of. Ballard's Snow Liniment cures rheumatism, lumbago, sore and stiff muscles, strains, sprains, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds and all aches and pains. You need a bottle in your house. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The county commissioners of Nassau met in regular session in Fernandina last Friday. After the regular business was attended to, a committee was instructed to send out a surveying party in districts No. 1, 2 and 3. The road will go via Yulee to the Duval county line. It is hoped that Duval will meet them halfway.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all druggists.

MITCHELL DEFENDS BOYCOTT BEFORE CONVENTION

Delivers Stirring Speech Before the Toronto Meeting, Giving His Idea of Liberty.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 18.—Endorsing a report of the committee on boycott, John Mitchell, one of the three officers of the American Federation of Labor who are under sentence for contempt of court, made a dramatic speech to the convention of that organization at yesterday's session. He declared that as far as he was concerned, regardless of consequences, he intended while at liberty to declare for the rights guaranteed him by the organic laws of his country.

The report which drew forth Mitchell's speech and which was adopted by the committee, among other things declared:

"We say that when your cause is just and every other remedy has been employed without result, boycott; we say that when the employer has determined to exploit not only adult male labor, but our women and children, and our reasoning and appeal to his fairness and his conscience will not sway him, boycott; we say that when labor has been oppressed, browbeaten and tyrannized, boycott; we say that when social and political conditions become so bad that ordinary remedial measures are fruitless, boycott, and finally we say, we have a right to boycott and we propose to air that right. In the application of this right of boycott to paraphrase the president (Gompers) we propose to strive on and on."

The convention broke into loud cheering for Mitchell as he concluded, and there was cries for "Morrison." The secretary did not respond. President Gompers was absent.

Mr. Mitchell said he realized that every statement made by those on the convention floor, and especially by those who on next Monday will have to deliver themselves to the courts, is being closely scrutinized.

Appeals to the People.

"I want the people of the United States to know my position," he said. "I shall not speak defiantly; but be the consequences what they will, I shall not surrender any right guaranteed to me by the constitution of our country. I am not sure how much mental and physical suffering will be necessary to make me submit, but if I know myself, not any amount of suffering will persuade me that I have not the right to spend my money where I please or that I have not the right to write and speak as I please, being responsibe under the law for my acts

"Whether the boycott be a benefit or a detriment each man must decide where he will bestow his patronage. I maintain that my patronage is my own and no merchant has a property right to it.

"I understand that cognizance is being taken at Washington of the utterances of men on the floor of this convention, and I want clearly to state my position. I propose in the future as I have in the past, to exercise the rights secured to me by the father of my country; and I propose if I am sent to jail to declare again when I come out that I shall not for myself purchase any product of the Bucks' Stove and Range Company.

"I repeat that so far as I am concerned, and let the consequences be what they may, I intend while at liberty to declare for the rights guaranteed to me by the organic laws of my country. I am proud of being an American."

Mr. Mitchell said he had grown up as an American with a stepmother, so poor that she could not buy bread, and related how he had crept out of bed at night to get his father's soldier coat to keep warm.

Declares for Real Liberty.

"But I want to see the word American stand for all the sentiment that is symbolized by the flag of our country," he continued. "I want real liberty. I don't believe in the liberty enunciated by some of our courts that men and women should have the right to work themselves to death. I don't believe in the liberty enunciated by Judge Tuthill of Chicago, who declared unconstitutional the ten-hour law for women, and by that act compelled them to work fourteen hours a day."

Mr. Mitchell said he believed the present proceedings would bring home to the people the necessity of working in concert. "Is the time going to come on our continent when the badge of faithfulness to labor must be the brand of imprisonment?" He said in conclusion, "surely I hope not. I hope that the Government may be so conducted that no citizen may feel that he has not been given justice and an equal right with every other citizen."

The revocation of the charter of the Ohio State Federation by the executive council for admitting to its membership seceding locals of the Electrical Workers was approved. The convention then adopted the report of its committee on laws that the appeal of the Ohio body be dismissed. The executive council was directed to attempt to unify the trade unions of Ohio in the State federation.

The plan adopted of settling the disagreement among the Electrical Workers was recommended to the convention by its committee on laws. It called for the appointment of three trade unionists to call the proposed convention of the Electrical Workers.

The Gainesville National Bank.

Attention is directed to the display advertisement of the Gainesville National Bank elsewhere in this issue. This bank, which opened for business July 22nd, 1907, has been a success from the beginning, having deposits in round numbers of $150,000 on November 16th, 1907, $300,000 the same day in 1908, and $405,000 the same day this year. It has earned more than $42,500, from which it has paid $17,500 in dividends. Gainesville should be proud of its youngest bank.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all druggists.

Got the Wrong Man.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

Deputy Sheriff Geo. W. Livingston of Newberry returned to this city Thursday from Thomasville, Ga., having in custody a negro supposed to have been Ed Simmons, charged with assault with intent to murder, the crime occurring near Newberry several months ago, and who was arrested by officials of Thomas county, Ga., by descriptions which had been furnished them.

The negro was placed in prison here, but furnished evidence sufficient to prove that he was not the man wanted, and was released.

It was rumored that a telegram was received from the authorities at Brunswick, Ga., Friday morning, bearing information that Simmons had been arrested at that point, but this rumor could not be verified, as Officer Livingston had left the city.

No blame can be attached to the officials of this county in the arrest of this man at Thomasville, neither can the blame be laid at the feet of the Georgia officials, who were working by description, and the man arrested so closely resembled Simmons that it was a difficult matter to distinguish one from the other. However, there is no harm done, and "everybody is happy."

Pellagra Patient Improving.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

Dr. J. H. Colson, who is treating the case of pellagra in the vicinity of Rochelle, which is the only case so far known in the county, stated Friday that the patient is rapidly improving, and that he hopes to entirely eliminate all traces of the disease in a short while.

The case appears to be a mild one, but the physician declares it to be pellagra, just the same. He also feels sure that the patient will come out all right, with the proper care and treatment, both of which she is receiving.

Why not have us draw you up an abstract of your prospective investment so that you'll not be buying something "in the dark?" The cost is certainly nominal—and when compared with the amount involved looks ridiculous indeed to do without it.

Believing that economy does not mean getting the lowest prices, but means obtaining the best results in return for the expenditure, we do not aim to produce pictures at the lowest possible cost, but of the highest standard of quality. Quality is long remembered; price is soon forgotten. Vansickel, Photographer, successor to Smith, Gainesville, Fla.
